Best Entry Feature

Designed to protect against early downward index movement.⁽¹⁾

Here's How It Works

For purposes of calculating the index credit amount, the starting Index Value will be reduced, allowing for better opportunity for gains if the index falls more than 10%* (the Trigger Rate) during the Best Entry window period (currently 60 days* from the policy issue date).

Key Reference Points

- ① 4119 Initial Starting Index Value
- ② 3707 Best Entry Window (Trigger Rate of 10%)
- ③ 3693 New Best Entry Starting Value (first decrease value below the Trigger Rate)
- ④ 4577 Ending Index Value

⁽¹⁾The Best Entry Feature applies only to the first index option period following policy issue. It does not apply to any periods thereafter. It also does not apply to the Fixed Interest Option. This feature is designed to adjust the index starting value to a new lower value if the S&P 500® declines significantly shortly after issue. Contact Revol One Financial for the most up to date terms and conditions. It is an optional rider that must be elected at the time of application and is subject to state variations and availability.

*The Trigger Rate and Best Entry Window are subject to change prior to contract issue, but once declared in the Contract will not change. Please contact Revol One Financial for the most up-to-date terms and conditions. The index value used to determine if the Trigger rate has been met, as well as the new starting index value, is as of market close.

Enhanced Participation Rate

The Enhanced Participation Rate (EPAR) Indexed Interest Options provide an opportunity for your clients to capture a greater percentage of growth if the S&P 500® Index performs well during the index option period.

Here's How It Works

With an EPAR Strategy, there are two participation rates:

- The Initial Participation Rate applies to the index growth up to a designated rate (called the Index Term Change Percentage)
- The Enhanced Participation Rate applies to any index growth above the Index Term Change Percentage

Example[†]

If the Index increases by 20% in this index option period, the Index Term Change Period is 10%, the initial Participation Rate is 20%, and the Enhanced Participation Rate is 100%, the EPAR interest crediting percentage will be 12%.

$$\left(\begin{array}{c} 20\% \\ \text{PAR} \end{array} \right) \times \left(\begin{array}{c} 10\% \\ \text{INITIAL GAINS} \end{array} \right) \text{ PLUS } \left(\begin{array}{c} 100\% \\ \text{PAR} \end{array} \right) \times \left(\begin{array}{c} 10\% \\ \text{EXCESS GAINS} \end{array} \right) = 12\%$$

EPAR Indexed Interest Options perform better when the index experiences higher returns

Lock In Stability with a Guaranteed Cap Rate for 6 Years

Available Exclusively in the Enduris 6 Fixed Index Annuity™

This Guaranteed
Cap Rate will not decrease during the
6 Year Surrender
Charge period, and is available only with the Enduris 6 FIA.

Here's How It Works

Years 1 & 3

The index return is greater than the CAP Rate. Your clients receive the maximum credited rate of 8%.

Years 2 & 4

The index return is zero or negative. Your clients' money is protected from market loss, and they receive a credited rate of 0%.

Years 5 & 6

The index return is positive and less than the CAP Rate. Your clients receive a credited rate equal to the index return.

This example is hypothetical and for illustrative purposes only. It does not reflect the outcome of any actual person. Individual results may vary.

Key Features
